Commanders Plan Final Cleanup In Tunisian Campaign

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press War Editor

The fight for Tunisia has erupted from the temporary stalemate into a violent new clash involving armored forces near Tebourba, 20 miles west of Tunis, where the Allied drive was checked last week by Axis counter-attacks and divebombing.

The war department announced today that the heavy fighting broke out yesterday and is continuing. It gave no indication as to which side had the initiative.

Reports that the Allied command had planned its next blow and moved up the forces to deliver it suggested that Lieut.-Gen. Kenneth A. N. Anderson's veteran first army and its American assault force might be striving for a knockout.

On this anniversary of Pearl Harbor the Axis was beginning to see the size of the bill it must pay as the growing might of the United States at war tipped the scales for the Allies on battlefields in the European and Asiatic theaters.

This was the picture, in contrast to that dark Dec. 7 a year ago.

North Africa—"Plans for the final phase of the Tunisian campaign," looking toward a cleanup in North Africa, were reported laid by Allied commanders at candlelight conference in a farmhouse kitchen in the battlezone.

British and American forces held strategic heights dominating Tebourba, 20 miles west of Tunis, and heavy fighting raged near the town and at Mateur, at the approaches to Bizerte, along a front where the Allied onslaught had been checked and dive bombed.

And though the Allied drive seemed stalled for the moment, reported feverish defense preparations in Sicily indicated that the Axis was well aware that the use was only temporary, and that the Allies might soon be in position to start stepping across the narrow mid-Mediterranean Straits to Italian soil.

Russia—The Red army's second winter offensive gained anew in the teeth of stiffened resistance by air-borne Nazi reinforcements, the Russians beat down 20 German counterattacks west of Rzhev, killed 1,000 Germans in a three-day advance along the Rzhev-Vyazma rail line, and wiped out 1,800 others in one sector of the Stalingrad front.

In the air—A strong force of RAF planes, perhaps 100 or more, followed up yesterday's 600-plane daylight raids with an attack last night on Karlsruhe and Pforzheim in southwestern Germany along the rail system through which the Nazis bolster their flagging Italian Allies.

Southwest Pacific—American soldiers, supported by Australian artillery, drove out of the New Guinea mangrove swamps to the beach east of Buna village, establishing the Allies' fourth beach position and cutting the Japanese last stand into one more pocket.

On Guadalcanal, American marines wiped out 400 Japanese with a loss of only 17 of their own men in one of their latest attacks. The Navy said that by actual count 6,641 Japanese had been killed on the island, besides the thousands estimated to have perished at sea in landing and reinforcement attempts.

Navy Secretary Frank Knox asserted that Japan's loss of warships, cargo vessels and troop transports—placed at 394 in sunk alone—had reached a point of desperation which imperiled the security of the Japanese empire.

Shipbuilders Busy Sending
New Vessels Down the Ways

By the Associated Press
The coming and going of the first New Year's Eve of Pearl Harbor will give the enemy added worries, for busy U. S. shipbuilders were honoring the occasion by sending new ships of war down the ways.

Scheduled to be launched today was one of the mightiest battleships ever built anywhere—the 45,000-ton New Jersey, which will have its first taste of water at the Philadelphia navy yard.

At Tampa, Fla., seven warships were to be launched and a navy receiving station commissioned today. The Alarm, Apex, Alcheny, Arago, Arch and Armada, and a minesweeper—all will slide into water there, and the day will be topped off when the great destroyer tender Piedmont is christened.

At the Fore River yard of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation at Quincy, Mass., the carrier Bunker Hill, first ship to be dubbed after the Revolutionary battle site, will be launched today.

SEC. WICKARD IN CHARGE OF FOOD NEEDS

In Second Important Weekend Move McNutt Is Placed in Control of Manpower

CHANGE ENLISTMENTS

Washington, Dec. 7.—(P)—Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard, who grew up on the farm and who believes bread is as important as bullets in winning a war, today was in complete charge of supplying the greatest food needs in American history.

President Roosevelt directed the 49-year-old Wickard yesterday to assume "full responsibility for and control over" the nation's food program, an undertaking that must reach unprecedented proportions next year in order to help feed the armed forces, the Allies and liberated countries.

Included in this supervision of food rationing, although the transfer of authority is not expected to mean any changes in the present rationing programs of sugar and coffee and the prospective rationing of meat. These programs will continue to be administered through the Office of Price Administration.

In another weekend move to centralize wartime authority, President Roosevelt put control of civilian and military manpower in the hands of Chairman Paul V. McNutt of the War Manpower Commission.

An executive order transferred the selective service system, heretofore an independent agency, to McNutt's office, suspended voluntary enlistments in the armed forces and directed both the army and navy to get their recruits hereafter from selective service, and empowered McNutt to direct that hiring of workers in any occupation or area he might designate should be done through the United States Employment Service, which he also directs.

The order also permits McNutt to channel workers into the most essential jobs.

RAF Bombers Stage Record Daylight Raids

London, Dec. 7.—(P)—A strong force of RAF bombers, striking after American and British airmen carried out their biggest daylight assault against the continent, continued the offensive to knock Italy out of the conflict with an attack last night upon one of the bottle-necks in the rail system through which the Nazis sustain their weaker partner.

At a cost of nine planes the British bombed targets in southwestern Germany, which Berlin identified as Karlsruhe and Pforzheim, neighboring communications and war factories, centers on the most direct route from Germany to Italy.

The German news agency DNE said there were killed and injured both at frequently bombed Karlsruhe and at Pforzheim, 16 miles to the southeast. The air ministry did not give the size of the raiding force, but its assertion that it was a strong one presumably meant that hundreds of bombers were used.

It was assumed that the RAF aimed its bombs at rail yards and shops and factories, including arms plants, at Karlsruhe and the large-scale machinery works at Pforzheim, but the air ministry said bad weather made impossible any accurate observation of the results.

Lying within the area raided last night are such important targets as Stuttgart, Innsbruck, Munich, Salzburg and Augsburg.

Pennsylvanians After 10 Pounds Per Capita

Harrisburg, Dec. 7.—(P)—Pennsylvanians hunted for 10 pounds per capita of scrap metal today—to "avenge Pearl Harbor."

The drive was inaugurated at the suggestion of Governor James, who said a state collection of 50,000 tons of scrap would be a fitting way to mark the first anniversary of the Japanese attack.

At the same time, the State Defense Council asked churches to emphasize the need for old metal and three counties—Adams, Northumberland and Lancaster—selected today to receive War Production Board Victory pennants for exceeding 100 pounds per capita in the recent scrap drive.

Organization In House Next G. O. P. Task

Chairman Taylor Predicts
Snyder County Man Will Be Next Speaker

CAUCUS WEDNESDAY

Harrisburg, Dec. 7.—(P)—After directing organization of the senate majority for the 1943 legislative session, Republican Chairman M. Harvey Taylor today tackled a similar task in the house with a prediction that Representative Ira T. Fiss of Snyder county would be the next speaker.

Chairman Taylor's action in slating Fiss for the post drew protests from several other candidates who said they would insist upon consideration. Included were Representative Edwin Winner of Montgomery, Harry E. Trout of Lancaster and John H. McKinney of Venango. H. David Sarge of Lebanon and Thomas M. Stockham of Bucks also had been mentioned for the job.

Republican representatives gathered here Wednesday for an organization caucus which is expected to follow the lead of senators in naming a preliminary program committee to study legislation in a move to speed up the assembly meeting opening January 5.

The upper branch majority at a week-end caucus supported Governor-elect Edward Martin's request for a short session in view of war conditions and named the program group to confer with the next chief executive on legislative plans to achieve this goal.

Senator Charles H. Ealy, of Somerset, was slated for another term as president pre-temore with Senator Weldon B. Heyburn, of Delaware county, to succeed James A. Getz, of Allegheny, as floor leader.

RELIEF IS PROMISED PITTSBURGH WORKERS

Pittsburgh, Dec. 7.—(P)—The Office of Price Administration today promised ample gasoline to eliminate the transportation problem hundreds of war workers faced here during the first week of gasoline rationing.

An OPA spokesman who declined to permit the use of his name also ridiculed reports that bus companies hauling workers to and from war plants in the Pittsburgh industrial area would have to suspend operations in some sections because of failure of OPA to furnish authorization for extra fuel rations.

Floor Fight For Chairman

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
St. Louis, Dec. 7.—(P)—A decision by Werner W. Schroeder, Chicago lawyer, to "go to bat" with the forces of Wendell L. Willkie opposing him on "isolationist" grounds promised a genuine floor battle as bloting approached today on a new chairman of the Republican national committee.

The party scrap was assured when efforts to seek a compromise choice acceptable to all groups blew up late last night and Schroeder announced: "I'm in the fight. And I'm going to win."

Schroeder, Illinois national committeeman, had been opposed from the start by the Willkie forces who had succeeded last April in steering the party away from what they called its "isolationist moorings."

They contended Schroeder's Pearl Harbor utterances stamped him a genuine isolationist.

CONGRESS IS FACING LAST MINUTE JAM

Eight Bundles of Legislative Controversy Stracked
On Calendar of Both Houses

IMPORTANT PROPOSALS

Washington, Dec. 7.—(P)—With final adjournment only four weeks away, the 77th congress found on its hands today a holiday log-jam that had no relation to the Yule variety.

Stacked up in committees and on the calendars of both houses were eight bundles of legislative controversy which—if a quorum remained in town—promised to keep members busy up to Jan. 2 with a brief interlude for Christmas.

They included:
A house-approved proposal to jack up the basis for computing agricultural parity prices by including all farm labor costs. Advocates said they would attempt to prevent the senate from voting finally on any other legislation until this measure, fought by administration supporters, is considered.

A narrowed war powers bill authorizing the president to suspend tariffs but not immigration regulations. House approval was considered possible but there was doubt that the senate would get around to it.

A house-approved bill granting a $5,000,000,000 increase in borrowing authority to the reconstruction Finance Corporation. Republicans planned to offer a compromise amendment in the senate forcing an accounting of funds.

A compromise measure, before the senate civil service committee today, which would increase the work week of "white collar" government employees from 44 to 48 hours and give them a "bonus" of 20 per cent increase on their annual pay up to $2,900 yearly. The log-jam made passage doubtful.

An administration proposal to extend government rent controls to commercial property not now covered by law. The house passed the bill in broad form, but the senate banking committee revised it to cover only defense areas and property operated by war contractors.

Aside from these issues, there was no dearth of controversial water still being ground out by committees.

Reds Meeting Stiffening Resistance

BY HENRY C. CASSIDY
Moscow, Dec. 7.—(P)—German resistance, stiffened by air-borne reinforcements, was growing on the central front west of Moscow today, but the Russians announced they had battered down 20 snow-covered positions in desperate counter-attacks.

Northwest of the Volga stronghold the Red army was reported tightening its hold on both banks of the Don river.

The mid-day communique said the Russians, after repulsing all counter-attacks, were consolidating captured positions.

Southwest of Stalingrad, the Russians said they killed 250 more of Hitler's troops in dislodging the Germans from a fortified position.

The Germans, after nearly three weeks of the Russian offensive, were still clinging to their foothold in the northern factory suburbs of Stalingrad and apparently were maintaining some lines of communication, but they have been unable to improve their positions in (Turn to Page Two)

Latest Award To Local Industry Includes Two White Stars, Signaling Two Consecutive Six Month Periods of Sustained Excellence in Production

A NOTABLE RECORD OF ACHIEVEMENT ATTAINED

Pearl Harbor Day came to Warren county this morning at the National Forge and Ordnance Company at Irvine, where the much-coveted Army-Navy "E" flag was raised on the special company flagpole exactly twelve months after the treacherous Jap attack on Pearl Harbor.

Coming at a time when good news is beginning to be the rule rather than the exception from the fighting fronts, the raising of this signal honor on the Warren County production front is a special tribute to the splendid efforts this community has been making to forge and form many of the most essential tools of war.

As the beautiful Army-Navy "E" Flag was unfurled in the crisp December air, it was noted that it was further emblazoned with two brilliant White Stars. One is on the Navy field of blue and the other on the Army field of red, and both stars are close to the golden laurel and oak wreath which encloses the significant letter "E".

That "E" has come to have a great and personal meaning to the millions of men and women engaged in war work throughout America. Wherever it has been recognized, it has signified and visualized official government recognition for exceptional effort in turning out the materials the fighting forces must have for victory.

Historically the "E" is 36 years old. The title was originally established in 1906 as an honor for men in the armed forces who excelled in gunnery. It was later extended to include engineering and communications. The award as now used applies to steady, efficient work by industrial workers engaged in manufacturing essential supplies for the United States Army, Navy, and Air Forces.

The story of the White Stars is equally fascinating. For a White Star can only be won by an organization which already has earned an "E" recognition. It indicates that the good work which won the original award has been maintained for the ensuing six months. To have won two White Stars, as the workers at National Forge have done, signifies that this excellence in production has been maintained for an entire year.

To have two White Stars already on the Army-Navy Flag is a record unsurpassed by an American company engaged in war production. In making this presentation to National Forge, Admiral H. A. Wiley, chairman of the Navy Board for Production Awards wrote John C. Harrington, President, the following congratulatory letter:

"I am glad to advise you that after careful consideration at its last meeting, the Navy Board for Production Awards granted a renewal of the Army-Navy 'E' Award to the National Forge and Ordnance Company for an additional period of six months dating from October 24, 1942."

"This renewal grants you the right to add an additional star to your pennant. I am therefore forwarding to you through the Commandant of the Fourth Naval District a new pennant with two stars affixed."

"On behalf of the Under Secretary of the Navy, I congratulate each and every one of the employees of the National Forge and Ordnance Company upon their continued splendid achievement in (Turn to Page Two)

ENEMY LOST BIG CHANCE, NAVY STATES

Revelations of Magnitude
Of Disaster at Pearl Harbor
Is Revealed in List
Of Losses

DECISION A MYSTERY

Washington, Dec. 7.—(P)—The navy's revelation of the magnitude of the disaster at Pearl Harbor made clear today that the Japanese missed a prime opportunity to destroy immediate American seapower in the Pacific and perhaps seize Hawaii.

With eight battleships—all there were in the Hawaiian area—and three cruisers sunk or disabled by the sneak Japanese blow, American naval forces in the Pacific a year ago were outweighed four or five to one by the Japanese imperial fleet.

Air defenses of Oahu island lay shattered. Runways of airfields were pitted by bomb craters and clogged with the wreckage of more than 100 planes.

The American warships still able to fight might all have been lost had the Japanese main fleet sought out and engaged them. An invasion of Hawaii, or even a raid in force aimed at final execution of the crippled ships, might well have been successful.

Why the Japanese did not follow up their first assault with some such action may never be known until after the war. Perhaps it was because they themselves in their most hopeful moments never anticipated that such punishing blows could be inflicted on the American fleet in such a short time.

As it was, the navy was able to tell in its weekend Pearl Harbor anniversary review a story of a magnificent salvage and repair job. Of the 18 ships and a large floating drydock which were disabled, only one, the battleship Arizona, is accounted a total loss. More than half the ships, including at least three of the battleships, are back with the fleet and some have been for months.

Shocking as were the losses, there was cold comfort for Japan and her Axis partners in that story of ships arisen to fight again, or in a companion report from the Office of War Information on 1942 arms production.

This latter report said output of major weapons in the first year of the war starting almost from scratch, included 49,000 planes, 32,000 tanks and self-propelled artillery, 17,000 anti-aircraft guns larger than 20 millimeter, and 8,200,000 tons of merchant shipping.

Chungking, Dec. 7.—(P)—Kwelin, capital of Kwangsi province, was bombed by 31 Japanese planes yesterday, the Chinese Central News Agency reported today, without mentioning damage or casualties. Earlier 12 Japanese planes raided Suichuan, in southwestern Kwangsi province, Central News said.

Bern, Switzerland, Dec. 7.—(P)—The Berlin correspondent of the Basler Nachrichten reported today that German military circles admitted parts of the German army before Stalingrad had been cut off between the Don and Volga and that these forces had to be supplied by air.

Washington, Dec. 7.—(P)—The war department reported today that heavy fighting involving armored forces began yesterday and is continuing in the vicinity of Tebourba, where Allied troops are attempting to hold their advanced Tunisian positions against strong Axis counter-attacks.

London, Dec. 7.—(P)—Allied forces are securely holding the heights dominating Tebourba, while heavy fighting continues in the Tebourba and Mateur sectors of the Tunisia battle zone, the Morocco radio said today in a broadcast recorded by Reuters.

Chungking, Dec. 7.—(P)—The first anniversary of Pearl Harbor brought from the Chinese press today a call for the United Nations to mass their might for a devastating assault upon Japan proper.

outstanding production. This award is difficult to win in the first instance and the requirements for renewal are equally exacting. By winning this additional honor you all have demonstrated a solid determination to supply our fighting forces with the materials they must have to bring this war to a successful conclusion.

National Forge workers began their outstanding record for award winning as early as November 22, 1941. At that time they were presented in an impressive ceremony, the Navy Ordnance Flag and "E" Pennant by Admiral William H. Standley, now United States Ambassador to Russia. It was an event National Forge workers will never forget.

The first award was officially sanctioned by Secretary of the Navy, Frank Knox, who stated: "Your company will have the privilege of flying this flag and pennant as a public evidence of deserved honor and distinction. In addition, your employees will be entitled to wear a special lapel button bearing the name of the company, the insignia of the Bureau of Ordnance and the Navy 'E' which, as you doubtless know, is a traditional Navy award."

The second award came this spring in the presentation of the All-Navy "E" on April 17th. This award was announced by Admiral Wiley, and was soon followed by the winning of the first White Star on April 24th. The Army-Navy "E" award was officially made to National Forge on August 11th and the second White Star was awarded on October 24th.

In connection with each of these "E" awards the workers at National Forge have been privileged to wear an official pin emblematic of the award. These pins have been presented to all employees of the company and have been consistently worn, not only while in the plant but for both street and social wear.

The first pin was a beautiful oval design with an embossed "E" in the center of an ordnance motif. The second or All-Navy "E" pin was a circle with base, the

"E" standing out from a background of Naval embellishments. The latest Army-Navy "E" pin shows the "E" in a circle composed of the laurel and oak leaves, against a red, white and blue background. The pins have been made of sterling silver and represent the highest craftsmanship of the silversmiths' art.

With the Ordnance "E" National Forge received two flags, the regulation Ordnance Flag and the "E" Pennant which was flown below it. The All-Navy "E" flag was a beautiful burgee, with anchor and "E". The first White Star was added above the "E" on the burgee.

On the occasion of each "E" award the company has issued an exceedingly well prepared brochure, containing the official announcement of the award and an embossed replica of the pin that accompanied it. These books already have come to be highly treasured by the workers who received them and many of them will undoubtedly remain in Warren County homes for generations.

In announcing the latest award to members of the National Forge and Ordnance organization, President Harrington stated:

"As such awards clearly demonstrate, we of National Forge have made not one but many records of outstanding importance in the national war effort. Additional White Stars will come for our Army-Navy Flag as we continue to merit them, depending upon our sustained accomplishments at the end of each six month period. I know I speak for everyone with this company when I express our collective confidence that as long as this terrible war lasts, and we can be of service to our country, we will continue to deserve these much coveted Army and Navy awards for excellence in production."

While employment figures cannot be divulged during war time, almost everyone in the Warren County district is aware of the large increase in organization that has taken place at the National Forge plant. Thus the accomplishments of National Forge workers have become a matter of moment to the entire Warren community. The Army-Navy "E" Flag, with two white stars affixed, which flies from the National Forge flagpole this Pearl Harbor Day is not only a famous symbol of accomplishment but a surety that this war will indeed end in a Victory for Freedom.

Officials of the Pennsylvania Motor Police were called to the Hatch Run vicinity this forenoon to investigate a fire which completely destroyed a cabin in which John Cushman made his home. It was feared for a time the owner might be in the building but it was learned he had come into town at an early hour and the only living thing in the building was a dog, which perished. Although officers had not been able to locate the owner at noon, it is believed the fire started from an overheated stove.

MEAT WAS SCARCE

Warren housewives who on Saturday failed to order their meat for the Sunday dinner at an early hour met with difficulty in the evening hours when they attempted to place their orders. Some of the markets did not receive any beef during the last few days of the week but most of the markets had a supply of pork. Whether or not the buying was in greater volume than ordinarily could not be learned but many of the markets were sold completely out of meat by 8 o'clock Saturday evening and had only some cold cuts left.

A RECORD OF ACHIEVEMENT

Commemorated on Pearl Harbor Day!

Today--Pearl Harbor Day--is another Red Letter Day for National Forge and the entire Warren County industrial community. The succession of war records that have been made at National Forge not only is a great credit to the workers at the Irvine plant but reflects the earnest effort so many men and women in Warren County are making to aid the war effort.

The much-coveted Army-Navy "E" award was officially made to National Forge on August 11, 1942. Since that recognition, the Navy Board of Production Awards reviewed the performance records of National Forge and presented the second White Star. Thus, the latest Army-Navy "E" Flag, which was received and unfurled this morning, has the unique distinction of being emblazoned with two White Stars on its fields of Red and Blue--a record of honors unsurpassed throughout all American industry.

National Forge began its record for award-winning when it was accorded the Navy Ordnance "E" in an impressive ceremony held at the plant on November 22, of last year. The Ordnance "E" was followed by the presentation of the All-Navy "E" on April 17, of this year. Then came the first White Star on April 24.

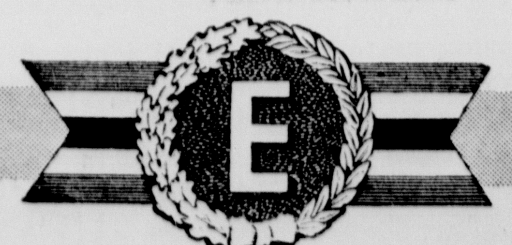

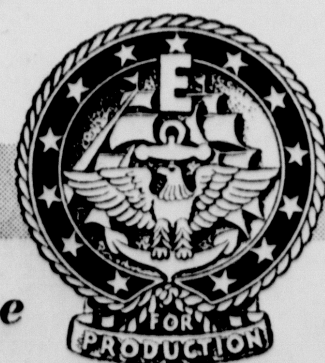

The significance of the White Stars is that they mark a sustained six months' period of outstanding effort after the presentation of an "E" award. In winning two of these White Stars within a year, in addition to two "E" awards and the Army-Navy "E" Flag, National Forge has established a continuous standard for excellence in production that has not been exceeded by any producer of wartime equipment.

These awards are a splendid tribute to the workers at National Forge, most of them Warren County men and women, who are keenly conscious of the great importance of their efforts in the war program. Engaged in work requiring the highest precision and personal skill, the National Forge organization has done and is doing a job in which the entire Warren district may well take honest pride and satisfaction. Such efforts are a patriotic demonstration of how earnestly America is working for Victory and how this community is helping to advance the Day of Peace.

Companion in interest to the parade of pennants shown at the top of this page is the series of "E" pins, shown below, which have been presented following the Navy awards to all workers at the National Forge plant. The first was the Ordnance "E" pin; the second was the All-Navy "E" Pin; and the latest---the Army-Navy "E" pin---is being given to all plant and office workers at National Forge today.

REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR!

The government's theme for this anniversary weekend, not unnaturally, is "Remember Pearl Harbor." To which Washington publicists add the admonition: "Work—Fight—Sacrifice!"

Our theme for the anniversary also is "Remember Pearl Harbor." But we are free, as government publicists are not, to remember Pearl Harbor from an angle more important than the hate-breeding treachery which the unarmored Japs showed on Dec. 7, 1941.

We do not belittle that treachery or its lesson. We learned that day that we were dealing with savages, by whom none of the amenities of civilization are accepted. We learned that this war will not be fought under gentlemen's rules; that the law of the jungle is the only law; that gouging, scratching, biting, sadism are the orders of the day.

But we learned also that the little brown men of Nippon are no ridiculous little pushovers, inefficient imitators of their betters, ninetins to be bowled over with a single twist.

We discovered a year ago today that we had been too complacent about the Japs; that in spite of ample warnings we were fast asleep while the Nipponese prepared to stab us in the back; that our high command had not done its duty for us.

Our prime sentiment today should be shame that we permitted the conditions to exist which made the tragedy of Pearl Harbor possible, and resolution that those conditions shall be wiped out immediately.

We might also feel a little gratitude toward the Japanese high command for letting us know what we were up against, so that we could get started fast, correcting our weaknesses, weeding out the inefficient, tightening our belts for a real war.

If we had learned the lesson of Pearl Harbor when it was thrust into our faces, this viewpoint would be only vicious carping. Unfortunately we did not learn the lesson. Even today, there are too many in high places who refuse to accept its implications, who feel that as soon as we find a few spare moments we can slap the Japs as one would a few mosquitoes.

It is long past time that we waked up. Let us honor the brave men and women who have died, many unnecessarily, in the struggle thus far. Let us thank God that we escaped paying the full price of our short-sightedness. And then, slightly paraphrasing the immortal words of Abraham Lincoln:

Let us highly and actively resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of more understanding devotion; that we shall work, fight, sacrifice until government of the people, by the people, for the people shall be the privilege of any nation that wants it.

A POOR RECORD

Petroleum Co-ordinator Ickes estimates that half of the 712,000 eastern seaboard fuel oil users could have converted to coal, but that only 4 per cent did—one out of 12. And now there is danger that not even a 65-degree temperature can be maintained this winter.

Granting the possibility of error estimates, that still is not a record of which to be proud. And yet, it was to be expected.

Experience is showing that when everybody is compelled to share in the grief, there is little protest; but that most folks dislike to assume discomforts which their neighbors should share but will not.

MILK MEN AND UNIONS

The milk distributors in and around New York have been given a deadline, the middle of December, after which they must show a specified saving in gasoline and rubber consumption.

When the distributors tried last summer to achieve this saving, among other ways by establishing every-other-day delivery, they were stopped by request of Washington after the unions had threatened a strike on the ground that drivers' jobs were threatened.

Is the government prepared now to force the unions to play ball? Or must the whole burden fall on the distributors?

Our congratulations to the National Forge & Ordnance Company, at Irvine, which today flies two white stars on the Army-Navy Flag, a record unsurpassed by any other American company engaged in war production. Swell way to observe Pearl Harbor Day!

County-wide sympathy is extended Mr. and Mrs. Carl Merkle, Tidioute, whose little son was drowned in the Allegheny Friday while playing on shore ice.

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — "Mystery men" in Washington are about as common as tumbleweeds in Texas and usually just as important in the national scheme of things.

Generally, they are fellows with some sort of title or "important contacts" who look wise, say little, spend money, and by innuendo and rumor create the impression that they are riding very firmly on the coattails of the inner circle.

If you read or hear that Ferdinand Eberstadt is Washington's No. 1 "mystery man"—and you probably will—don't get the wrong impression. He doesn't belong to that outfit.

In the first place his title isn't "mystery man." He's vice chairman of the War Production Board and head of the newly created Facility Clearance Board. At the moment, he has more say-so about what goes into military and what into civilian production than any person in Washington. In his capacity as head of FCB, he's taking a look-see at present and planned construction projects with a view to eliminating waste.

As for "contacts"—hold your breath. It was Under Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal who brought Eberstadt to Washington nearly two years ago to get the Army-Navy Munitions Board into line as a going business institution. But, and this is important, probably his closest friend here is Under Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, a sidekick in World War I.

His other "contacts" include those he made at Princeton, where he picked up a Phi Beta Kappa key; on the Mexican border, where he was a member of one of those snappy Park Avenue cavalry regiments; in France where he rose to captain in field artillery; as a member of the law firm of McAdoo-Cotton-Franklin; and as Wall Street investment banker.

His only resemblance to those other "mystery men" is that he doesn't talk much. When he does, it's in snapped-off sentences and the word he uses most frequently is "No." When it comes to publicity, he's a Hollywood starlet in reverse.

From this, it should be apparent that "innuendo" is too long a route for dynamic Mr. Eberstadt to travel and if he has ever bothered with a "rumor" I haven't heard of it. As for spending money, he could, but he doesn't.

In a recent weekly magazine article, Eberstadt was referred to as an "energetic icicle." Employed and the newsmen who are on his run are generally less picturesque. They just say he's "tough."

That crack isn't really complimentary. His position in WPE and his connection with the Army, as well as the Navy, places him in what could be the most powerful job in the country so far as production is concerned.

Some observers think (and the ranks are growing every day) that he has that quality of toughness which may iron out our production kinks—may even result in his superseding Donald Nelson, in authority, if not in title.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Today's Cinderella story is about a poor little gal named Lassie who didn't have to get rich and famous to get a fur coat.

Lassie started out with hers, the way most collies do.

Aside from that asset, Lassie a few months ago was just as undiscovered and obscure as any million-hellness who isn't doing war work. She was romping around on a ranch, getting buried in her fur and wearing out her beautiful ruff. Far from being discovered, Lassie was all "washed up," had been looked over and passed up, and was already put out to pasture at the tender age of three.

This was tough on Lassie, whose position deserved better. Lassie's owner, Rudd Weatherwax, used to work for dog-trainer Rennie Renfro. Then Rudd bought Lassie, paying $10 for her, and went into the business himself. That made Lassie No. 1 in the "Weatherwax kennel." But not in the movies.

Rudd took her around, but they weren't using collies this season. Rudd eventually added 40 more dogs to his outfit, and all 40 of them got movie jobs of one kind and another—but not Lassie. So Lassie went out to the ranch, got buried in her fur and wore out her beautiful ruff.

SHE might be there yet if Metro hadn't decided to make "Lassie Come Home," Eric Knight's story about a dog and a boy. It was about a particular dog, a collie, Fred Wilcox, the young director, looked everywhere for the right collie. They even had a collie show at a local athletic field, and after all was barked, yelped and done they still hadn't their one dog. They looked in New York and Boston and practically everywhere the Scarlett O'Hara search had gone, but no dog.

Rudd Weatherwax heard about it, naturally, and he brought in Lassie. Wilcox was interested, but Lassie wasn't at her best. The burs were combed out, but Lassie's ruff was worn. No, said Wilcox, he'd like some more. Well, to cut it short, Rudd nursed the ruff to health and beauty, and next time Wilcox wondered where Lassie had been all his life. Talent searches generally end in Hollywood just like this one.

ASSIE is a movie queen now, in technicolor. She's been on location to Washington state and Monterey, Calif., traveling by train or station wagon. Around the studio she rides in a fashionably old yellow bantam car.

She is, when this movie is done, a likely answer to the leading man shortage — a dog that can carry a picture just as Rin-Tin-Tin did in his day. And Lassie, make no mistake, will be a leading man. She's really a he, and her real name is Pal.

War Anniversary Preparedness

Dec. 7, 1941

Dec. 7, 1942

AN END—AND A BEGINNING are marked by this first anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. One year of war has passed—a year in which the United States met many reverses, achieved a few major victories. On the home front have come rationing, bond sales, mighty production efforts. Above all else, the anniversary sees the tide turning, the United States and her allies taking the offensive, the Nazi might on the wane. Ahead lie long months of war, with its heartbreak, deprivations and misery. But ahead, too, lies certain victory.

Theatres Launch Intensified Bond and Stamp Selling Drive

Observing the first anniversary of this nation's entry into the war, the motion picture theatres of Warren, in common with others all over the country, today launched an intensive seven-day war-bond and stamp selling drive.

They are calling upon all moviegoers to "Avenge Dec. 7" by buying more bonds. With the local theatres, some 15,000 other movies throughout the land are uniting in the campaign. Also in New York City today, the War Activities committee of the motion picture industry opened its annual meeting to discuss plans for the intensified activities in 1943.

Now thoroughly organized from coast to coast, the War Activities

Committee is cooperating with virtually every department and branch of the war government. The annual report of W. A. C. should make dramatic reading. Under its matter-of-fact headings could be traced fascinating phases of the war effort...from films for training recruits and cutting down the time of instruction to films to keep high the morale of those same boys when they reach the front lines. From fun-raising drives for war charities to material collecting campaigns for scrap, conservation, rationing. From escapism war entertainment for the home-front to vital war messages from the government.

Victory Fund Committee Has Completed Its Organization

The Victory Fund Committee for Warren County has completed its organization for assisting the United States Treasury Department in its financing program for December. The local committee has been organized in three divisions under the general chairmanship of R. W. Mackay with these divisions headed as follows:

Industrial Division: John L. Blair, Commander, R. W. Mackay, Adjutant, E. W. Johnson, P. E. Nelson, W. W. Beatty, M. H. Dearborn, H. A. Logan, J. C. Harrington, J. A. Rockwell, Leon Laskaris, H. N. Elmquist, C. T. Conarro, N. D. Patterson, H. W. Conarro, H. D. Kopf, H. P. Stone, M. T. Thomas, H. A. Cray.

Individual Division: Donald C. Smith, Commander, N. D. Patterson, Adjutant, E. M. Branch, H. B. Meacham, G. E. Stone, E. T. Lunardi, A. L. Rasmussen, W. S. Clark, C. J. Cray, W. E. Yeager, R. W. Steber, Grover Lind, Myron Jewell, C. S. Allen, L. A. Branch, A. L. Langdon, G. Q. Calderwood.

County Division: M. H. Dearborn, Commander, C. R. McNeal, Adjutant, P. J. Finerty, C. W. Spencer, Howard M. Kay, Fred Beckenbach, James Pelton, Robert Baldwin, L. R. Briggs, A. V. Clinger, A. D. Goal, P. H. Potts.

It will be the purpose of these committees to raise Warren county's quota of $2,930,000 by selling to individuals, industrial corporations, retail firms, banks, and every sort of purchaser who is financially able, the government securities which are offered in several forms.

The United States Treasury 2½% bonds maturing in 1968 represent the safest investment in the world for individuals and institutions having idle funds. The five-year 1½% bonds are an ideal short term investment as are the 3½% Certificates of Indebtedness due in one year. The Tax Savings Notes will be purchased in substantial amounts by large taxpayers and it is important that everyone who pays an income tax must realize that he will be required to produce the funds next March 15th and any funds now available might profitably be invested in the Tax Savings Notes which provide some income until the time required for payment. Beginning December 1st the sale of Series F and Series G War Savings Bonds has been transferred to the Victory Fund Committee and these also are an excellent form of investment and like all the other government issues can be purchased through any bank.

Committee Confident Goal Will Be Reached in County's Russian War Relief Campaign

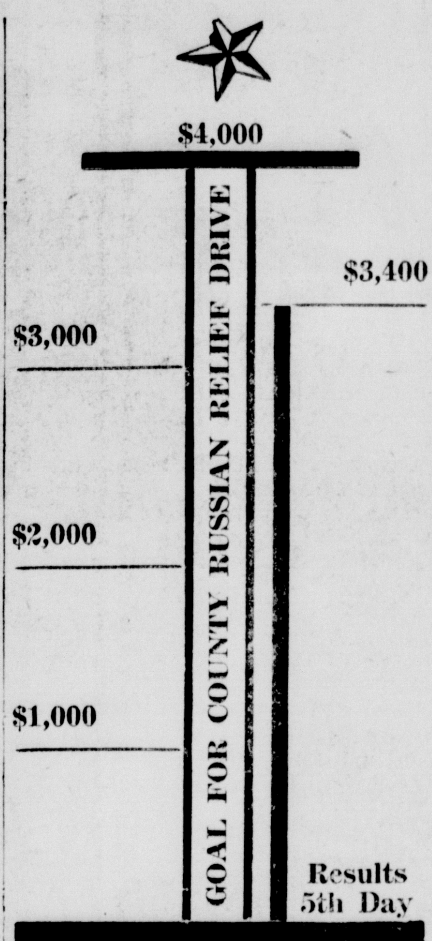

The Russian War Relief Drive is headed into the stretch.

Up to noon on Friday, approximately $2,700 of the $4,000 goal had been received. Between that time and noon on Saturday the figure had risen to approximately $3,400. Although Saturday is officially designated as the last day of the campaign, it is expected that many donations will continue to arrive on Monday and throughout the coming week. "The goal is definitely in sight," said P. E. Harrington, treasurer of the Central Committee.

George Wholeben, chairman of the committee, also expressed his conviction that the goal would be achieved. "It has been a hard, intensive campaign, and I believe when the reports are in from Saturday, we shall be definitely over the top," he stated. Mr. Wholeben asked that special commendation be given to several individuals and organizations which have been exceedingly helpful in furthering the drive. Chief among these was Anthony Fano, who voluntarily constituted himself a one-man collection committee and rounded up more than $125.00 from business organizations and individuals. Another was the Commercial Department of the Warren High School, under the direction of Mr. Bathurst, who sent Miss Lucille Carlson and Miss Gertrude Zolinger to assist in the tremendous job of tabulating the hundreds of returns that have been pouring in each day.

Other schools have taken group action to help the cause, along with the Home, notably the Home Street and Irvinedale schools, taking collections in their own ranks. Other organizations such as lodges and clubs have been very generous and helpful.

Meanwhile, the booths at Metzger-Wright Company and J. C. Penney Company had a record day on Friday. Indications are that the results of Saturday's activities on all fronts of the drive will far exceed any single day to date. Mrs. William Glassman and Mrs. Olive Huff, in charge of this phase of the activity, have done a fine job of recruiting workers. Activities Saturday were extended from the two booths when additional workers covered the chain stores and secured much additional revenue.

Final results of the campaign will not be available until the last contribution is in. The chairman of the Central Committee stated that anyone who failed to get his contribution in up to Saturday night may still mail or bring it to P. E. Harrington, treasurer, at the Warren Bank and Trust Company. Booths will not be open this week. Following is the list of contributions:

Tidoute Lad Falls Through Ice To Death

Private services were being held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in memory of little four-year-old James William Merkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Merkle, Tidoute, who was drowned Friday afternoon between three and four o'clock while playing along the shore ice on the Allegheny river at that place. Interment was in Tidoute cemetery.

The body was recovered Saturday morning about 11:30 o'clock after it was discovered in about four feet of water 60 feet from shore by James King, 17, who was in a boat with Edna Lind and Ernest Moore, all of Tidoute. They were members of a searching party of about 60 working under the direction of a member of the Warren barracks of the state motor police, which had been looking for the lad through the night and morning.

The father told Coroner Ed Lowrey that the boy was not discovered missing until supper time Friday evening, the family feeling that he was in the home of a playmate until they started looking for him.

James was born January 30, 1937. Besides the parents he is survived by two brothers, Robert, in the navy in Jacksonville, and Jack at home. Also surviving are grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Merkle, Tidoute, and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Somerville, Elkview, W. Va. He attended the Presbyterian Sunday school. He was one of the most likeable youngsters of his age in the community and all of the citizens are bowed in grief over his untimely death.

PLAN YOUR MEALS FOR

HEALTH and VICTORY

Proper nutrition can combat the common cold and other diseases that are robbing America of valuable hours so vitally needed for production to win the war. Nutritious meals improve workers' efficiency and morale. Your gas range is ideally suited to modern "waterless cooking" which saves vegetable vitamins and minerals... its flexibility gives you any degree of heat you need.

Tips on Buying Foods

- Buy With Care
- Plan before you buy; pennies will go farther.
- Buy in quantity when economies come that way.
- Read labels to know what's in food packages.
- Compare cost per ounce or pound in containers of different sizes.
- Buy by weight, not by a dime's or a dollar's worth.
- Buy by grade to get the quality you pay for.
- Learn the seasons when different foods are cheapest.
- Check your purchases before you leave the store.
- Keep up to date about the foods your family needs.

★ Ask for "A PLAN FOR THE DAY'S CHOICE OF FOOD" when you are in our office. There's no cost or obligation.

IT was a monstrous thing that was visited upon the United States of America, that Sunday of December 7th, 1941! The sun had risen to light up a day of peaceful beauty and quiet . . . but from the "Land of the Rising Sun" there spewed the horror of life-taking, land-destroying bombs dropped from a murderer-infested sky! We can answer by making that blood-red sun set forever . . . for all it can mean to the world is treachery, viciousness, and fascism in its most rabid form! Oh, yes: the enemy shall pay in kind for the attack without warning on men going about their work . . . women at their household chores . . . children at play. 134,000,000 Americans are going to wipe clean the debt . . . NOW! And in 1943! 134,000,000 FIGHTING AMERICANS ANSWER THE AXIS on the war front and the home front!

ALREADY our men have blasted successfully at the Japs. And let us not forget that though our little yellow enemies hit at Pearl Harbor, they are just part of the hideous machine that has Hitler and Mussolini at the controls along with Hirohito! So we've got to keep right on blasting at every point where the Axis has reached out to strangle peace and freedom! We've got to keep right on making fighting machines in such large numbers that every last fascist can be exterminated from the world! We Americans love peace, and security, and are not a war-making people at all. But you stabbed us in the back, Japan—and since 'way back, when there's a just fight on our hands we Americans know how to make all hell cut loose until Victory is ours, and our Allies! Remember Pearl Harbor? And how!

YOU CAN STILL collect more scrap if you really try! Make another hunt through home, garage, barn, office. Don't keep anything you don't use—whether it's metal, rags, cooking fat or hose!

AT LEAST 10% of your pay in War Bonds is the pledge of every home front fighter! But many can save more for this investment in freedom! And every time you make a purchase take some change in War Stamps!

This is the day to take stock of what you are doing to help win the war. To the left and right you see highlighted eight things that it is up to every American to assume as wartime responsibilities! Stop and think—are you doing all you can? Will boys die unnecessarily because you're careless and uncooperative? Or on Inventory Day, when you take stock—will you have the conviction that you are doing your share to bring about a speedier Victory? It's your war—so pitch in and win!

GOVERNMENT REGULATIONS about the use compulsory inspection and eligibility for purchase and repair of tires can be explained to you by your local service station. Comply—or no gas for your car!

PRODUCE IN WAR INDUSTRY — and let your work clothes be your fighting uniform! Planes, guns, ships must be made by home front men and women! You can learn a skill if you don't know one—but work for Victory!

YOUR COUNTRY, your city, your community, your block — needs more Civilian Defense participants! Become a Block Leader or Air Raid Warden! Apply at your Local Office of Civilian Defense today!

CARRY EVERY PACKAGE that will fit in your arms—to save truck tires and gas! Stores have cut down their MILEAGE 25%, so if you don't carry the little bundles they won't be able to deliver the big ones!

WATCH FOR VICTORY FOOD specials, and eat what's abundant and thriftily priced. Your country is seeing to it that you can serve nutritional meals—and that our boys can be the best fed fighters in the world!

SHARE YOUR CAR to work and to shop. Every time you let its tires turn be sure every seat is filled! Victory rides on rubber—so save every tread you can! Start a car sharing club—your local board will tell how!

Two Close Games Open Preliminary Round At The "Y"

Jewell, Pick Berdine And Fitch Fill Hoop To Lead First Week Of Scoring

"A flying start" best explains the "Y" league basketball season as it hit the first night of warfare. Four of the closest matched teams in recent history pried off the lid for the openers and the rivalry waged thick and heavy.

In the initial contest, the Rock Cleaners gave up a close one to the Red Sox in the final minutes of the game and came out of the tail end of a 39-35 count.

Bob Jewell and Berdine found the inside hoop consistently in the first three quarters, but couldn't quite match the accuracy of John Wright and "Lunk" Lundquist as the Sox held them down in the third quarter and scored even with them. The Rocks held the lead in the first session, but gave it up by a bucket in the second as the Reds came up at half-time with a 17-15 lead. From there on it was a hot battle as both sides fought evenly, but the Rocks couldn't quite make up the deficit and gave up their first.

O'Connors mighty Fitch again came through with a bunch of well-placed shots sinking 5 and a couple of fouls for a high total of 12, while his running mate, Gustafson gave support of 11 more and downed a slightly out of condition Struthers bunch. Struthers held the lead up until the closing minutes of the second stanza and only were one down at the half by 14-18, but the O'Connors boys came down with a barrage in the third and held Struthers at a standstill to give them sufficient lead to win. J. Bonavita slid two through for a small high score of his team, but the points were so evenly matched on theirs that nobody stood out.

Covering The Sports Front!

BY "BOB" JOHNSON
Take this side's word for it about Physical Director Parmalee of the YMCA being the best basketball director the "Y" has had in many seasons, because of the beautiful job he has accomplished in rounding out four of the most evenly matched teams Warren has had the opportunity to boast for years in Class A competition. Yesterday morning he seemed very little worried at the prospect of the usual one-sided contests being staged this year on the local hardwood, that have been the past seasons' Waterloo in the fans' estimation, and he shouldn't have been. In the past seasons of basketball the players have always had their kick about the lack of cooperation on the part of the heads in helping to make things swing the top sport on the program, and we've seen those who really wanted to play, when they had to remove apparatus of all kinds from the floor before they could start their scheduled games, even then having to fight to keep the tumblers off the floor when they were in the midst of a crucial contest.

Yes, sir, for the changed attitude we can rightfully give him credit for the way he has handled the teams and put together evenly matched men to bring once again to the "Y" that long awaited schedule that will do away with all the above mentioned atrocities.

To top it off, he wants to give the localites a chance to see good ball played at a cost that even the grade school students would look about as being too small a price, only making enough to cover overhead of the referees.

Did you know that Mike Bleach has been picked on the Erie all-competitor team for 1942 and ranks with some of the best, including Holt of the mighty Massillon Tigers? Also he stood third in scoring in the Big Fifteen. That's college stuff, if we ever saw it. Joe Gardner says he will bring in a summary of the year in sport soon and will take over this pillar for a couple of days. Too, it will rank with some of Harvey Boyle's stuff, and that should be well. Hope it isn't too much like him, though, Joe, 'cause your face might get red.

Coming attractions: Erie's Ray Peebles recently wrote his conception of what the average golfer goes through in a lifetime—but, it just gave the points that make the duffers boil, so we'll strive to give you a dissertation on the one and only, one in a lifetime—the happy golfer. . . . Then there is the to-be-drafted golfer who said "This war holds no terror for me! I've played golf at Maplehurst." He must have meant the fifth hole. . . . Sammy Brindis left yesterday to go back to camp, where he has the capacity—of all things—an M. P. . . . He's PFC, too.

One week of buck season still shows that the best day was the first, because of the zero visibility of the others. . . . For a team of young married men, watch the Struthers outfit make the others jump in another week of practice. . . . And Johnny Pawk, one of the best pro basketballers in Warren's ranks, misses that first night.

His wife died about two months ago. . . . Rusie struck out 345 batters in the single season of 1890. Three years later the pitcher's box was moved back 10½ feet to its present position and the following year, 1894, he pitched the Giants to the world's championship.

Roll For Red Cross At Arcade This Week

The head-pin tournament at the Arcade alleys opens this evening at seven o'clock. Entrants may roll as many times as desired. $1.00 entry fee, 50 cents of which goes to the Red Cross, 30 cents to prizes and 20 cents for the game. All players will have twelve frames in which to roll and the only pins that will count will be those in which the head pin has been knocked down.

M'Spadden Is Winner Of The Miami Open

Miami, Fla., Dec. 7.—(P)—A thousand dollars in war bonds was Harold McSpadden's reward today for a hard-earned victory in what may have been the last golf tournament for the duration to bear a reasonable resemblance to peacetime resort events.

Only a handful of name professionals matched shots with McSpadden in the four-day $5,000 Miami open, and most of them told of plans for joining the numerous links stars who already have entered the armed forces or undertaken defense work.

McSpadden fired a four under par 66 yesterday to total a 72-hole card of 272—four strokes ahead of Johnny Revolta of Evansville, Ill.

ONE OF FIRST FAST BALL PITCHERS DIES

Seattle, Dec. 7.—(P)—Amos Rusie, the first, and one of the greatest, of the big league, "fast ball" baseball pitchers is dead. Rusie, who was 71, died in a hospital here yesterday. He had never fully recovered from an automobile accident 10 years ago, but until the last few months had lived in retirement on a small ranch at Auburn, South of here.

Even before the order was released the army announced it had stopped inducting men over 38 years of age and had paved the way for honorable discharge of such men already inducted if they can serve the war effort better as civilians.

The navy may still enlist volunteers 17 years of age, as it has been doing, and both the army and navy may enlist specialists over 38 years old, but the order was designed to give unified supervision over military and civilian manpower procurement and disposition for all men between the ages of 18 and 38.

Commanders Plan Final Cleanup In Tunisian Campaign

ity of her widely-scattered Pacific island bases.

A Tokyo broadcast said one battleship and three aircraft carriers were among 40 Japanese warships lost in the past year.

This, although the largest acknowledgment so far from Tokyo on major warship losses, still told half truth because United States and Allied communiques have announced.

Japan, which so far has had only a sample of wreckage to come, noted the Pearl Harbor anniversary with a weekend of broadcasts ranging from claims that the United States actually "fired the first shot" at Pearl Harbor, to boasts of talk of occupying New York, Washington and London.

A Tokyo broadcast recorded by the Federal Communications Commission based the pointless claim that the United States fired first at Pearl Harbor on a Japanese version of the Roberts report describing the destruction of a Japanese submarine spotted there just before the aerial attack.

Details of land fighting in Tunisia were meager, but it appeared that Allied troops were holding high ground positions dominating the Mateur-Tebourba-Djedida area where their drive was checked. Heavy fighting continued.

All accounts from the battlefield told of terrific German dive-bombing attacks, making it evident that the Allies had not yet been able to move up from the wet sufficient fighter strength to the immediate battle zone to win control of the air.

Allied bombers and long-range fighters were hitting hard from Malta and advanced Libyan bases to help offset this. A Cairo communique reported raids ranging from Reggio airport in southern Italy and Gela airbase in Sicily to airfields and supply systems at Bizerte, Tunis, Sousse and Sfax.

ALBRIGHT BROTHERHOOD

The Albright Brotherhood of First Evangelical church will have a supper meeting at 6:30 this evening in the church, followed by a talk by Rev. S. R. Schieb, Salem church pastor, on his travels in the Holy Land. He will illustrate with pictures.

PICK-UP STARTS TUESDAY

Chairman Wylie T. Corbett, of the Salvage Committee states that people who put their junk on the curb today must not expect the pick-up trucks until Tuesday or Wednesday. The committee is organizing the pick-up so that all possible gasoline can be saved. Tins are not wanted in this pick-up and that pick-up will come within the next three weeks. The cans have to be sent to a detinning plant and cannot be used with the ordinary junk. A good response is being made, all sections of the county responding in good shape, according to reports received today.

Counting kitchens, valet bedrooms and corridors used as sitting rooms, there are 50 rooms in the White House.

The aye-aye is one of the queerest monkeys in the world. A native of Madagascar, it never has been seen in daylight.

Lewis Jones, Jr., seaman second class, is spending a ten-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jones, Mill street, Sheffield. "Bud" has been having

"You better tell em, boss, there's no good in making them sore and anyway I'm afraid that black-haired doll will scratch my eyes out." Duffy sighed and dropped into a chair.

Clark laughed.

"Nonsense, Duffy, just turn on that charming manner of yours that you used on the rich widow in Atlanta and go out and tell the girls how sorry I am and how honored I feel that they wanted to entertain for me. You've done it dozens of times, why get weak-kneed now?"

Duffy took a deep breath and got slowly to his feet. "Okay, boss, but if the black-haired dame beats me to the draw, tell my dear old mother that I went down fighting." Duffy dragged from the room and closed the door behind him.

"Of course he'll come?" Patty asked before the door snapped shut.

"He's awful sorry, girls, but he has an engagement that he just can't break. He—he even tried, he got right on the telephone but, well, there just wasn't any way he could get it." Duffy actually looked relieved.

"Well, that's just lucky," Gloria cut in. "Here we go to all the trouble to get the crowd together to meet the great Pasquin and then he walks out on us."

"After all, girls, a couple of hours isn't much notice to give a guy," Duffy said.

"I agree on that," Patty said. "I told you, Gloria, we should have arranged for this a week ago through Sydney."

"I don't like to make plans a week in advance," Gloria snapped. "I might have been entirely out of the mood by the time the night came." Nobody ever crossed Gloria and they didn't now. There was a moment of silence and then with the suddenness of a summer thunderstorm Gloria changed and smiled her sweetest smile at poor Duffy.

Fast Work

"I HAVE a plan," she said brightly, "why don't you tell Mr. Pasquin's favorite night spot? We can at least have a little party of our own and Sydney can introduce us."

Stuffy Duffy's facial expression told that he liked the idea, although he knew Clark would be angry with him. He thought to himself, "It can't do any harm and I still think a few candid camera shots in the morning papers will be a neat bit of publicity."

In a low confidential tone, he whispered, "He always goes to the Wallaby Club. Says it
